Homecoming From 'Big Town' Brings Highlights of Show

by Jo Westpheling

Well, folks I'm back from the Big Town, and at the offset let me say that I wish it had been possible for me to stay with sweet, lil ole Nancy for the entire time that she will be in New York on Godfrey's Talent Show. Nancy's tremendous success in a city, where talent is the by-word, has made us all bust with pride, and unless I'm badly mistaken, this is Nancy's first experience in a long series of future engagements for the delightful entertainment of the whole Nation.

What Nancy Adams has done for Fulton and for Kentucky will be a long time duplicating and I know you will agree with me that it could not have happened to a nicer girl.

Nancy, and her mother, Lucille, and her aunt, Montelle, to whom goes a big chunk of the credit for Nancy's success are still in New York at this writing. Since Arthur Godfrey has made it mighty plain to all of America that he thinks that little lass is as cute as a button, and just as talented, there's no telling where Nancy will go from now on. And as much as we miss the gals, we hope they will start voting up there, if it means more engagements for Nancy.

I think you will enjoy hearing about some of the highlights of the trip and if Paul is in a good humor maybe he'll try to publish all I write. Here goes!

We left Fulton, by auto on Tuesday, April 16 and arrived in New York the next day at about dusk. It was a most pleasant trip and we had many good laughs all the way. Nancy and Lucille were charmed with the fascinating points of interest along the way and started a diary of their doings. (I wonder what has happened to the diary... things started happening so fast in Big Town... Nancy didn't have time to write much less write.)

On Thursday after our arrival we started in with the busy activities that only a city the size of New York can offer. On that day I went into the Godfrey office to get acquainted with the nice folks up there and met Tony Marvin, that incomparable emcee as well as Frank Musiello, Janette Davis, Eleanor Ungar and the others. They were as cordial as could be and it did our Southern hearts good to get a smile now and then. (New Yorkers... they just don't say "good mornin'" or "howdy like we say" whether we know folks or not.)

On Thursday night the four of us went into Greenwich Village for a wonderful Italian dinner at a little restaurant that I had visited on previous trips to New York. The folks there "adopted" Nancy and told her that if she won they would take her out on the town. I'm sure they would have, only we never got back to the Village. As a matter of fact, we never did any backtracking at all... too darned much to see and do there's acres of explored territory in Manhattan that we never got around to.

Friday Nancy and Lucille left earlier than we did for Nancy's rehearsal at 1:30 at CBS. When Mary-Nelle and I arrived Nancy had already gone through her number once and it was heartening to us to hear the whole office going around humming that now famous song, "I wish I was the Queen of France." We felt it an indication of the audience reaction for the big show on Monday. We were thrilled too because we could see that Nancy captured the hearts of the Godfrey staff and we felt that if she could do that so soon... the rest would be a happy conquest.

For the ensuing days, partly because of anxiety waiting for Monday and perhaps because we wanted to do some rubber-necking, we visited some of the shops, we went to Birdland to hear Duke Ellington, we went to see "Most Happy Fella," a perfectly wonderful musical, and prior to the play on Saturday we had lunch at the Taft, where Vincent Lopez was playing for the lunch hour. It was interesting to know that Lopez conducts a talent program at that hour so it was only natural that Nancy should participate.

Do you know that the little gal from Kentucky performed before that huge luncheon audience, sang "I Love My Baby," as its never been sung before... and she won the show and the hearts of the audience. It was a wonderful experience for Nancy, because she had an opportunity to test a New York audience... and if there were any cold-hearted fanboies among them, Nancy melted them like hot butter on a sizzling stove.

Lopez was most complimentary about Nancy's talents and gave her a loving cup as a memento of the occasion. Incidentally after the "Most Happy Fella" performance we went backstage to meet Art Lund, the leading male star, who graduated from East Kentucky College at Richmond, I think. It was like ole home week, because Art knew lots of folks in Kentucky that we did so that too was fun.

Sunday, as you well know was Easter. It was time for that memorable Easter parade on Fifth Avenue, so we all dressed in our best and trotted over to St. Patrick's Cathedral, which is the focal point of the Easter parade in New York. Much to our dismay and surprise we learned that for the ten o'clock service seats in the church were reserved. I can well understand why... there were at least 20,000 people standing outside the church with the same idea in mind. (Ed's note: If you ever plan a trip to New York... skip Easter week. Its maddening.)

Anyway we stayed around for awhile and tried to talk our way into a reserved seat and after being advised to stand across the street until the line started moving a very unusual experience happened to me. Nancy, Lucille and Mary-Nelle and I were standing on the corner watching all the people go by, when a nice little gent standing next to me struck up a conversation. Our Southern accents always commanded attention, but this fellow, about 75, standing next to me, went all out. As a matter of fact, right in front of 20,000 people, with the voice of Francis Cardinal Spellman beaming out to the audience in the streets, this eager-beaver proposed matrimony. I asked the rest of our group if they had time to plan a wedding and they said they didn't, so we walked off and left that eager, prospective bride-groom standing on the corner watching all the girls go by. (We never got into the church.)

To hasten the hours until Monday, we took a sight-seeing trip around Manhattan on Sunday. We hit the high spots, like Chinatown, the Statue of Liberty, Wall Street, Little Church Around the Corner.

PLANS FOR PRISON SITE POSTPONED BY HOUSE COMMITTEE

Senator Cooper
Advises Funds
Being Withheld

The office of Senator John Sherman Cooper advised the News last week that selection of a site for a proposed maximum security prison, perhaps in this area has been postponed as a result of action taken by the House Subcommittee on Appropriations. Funds for which to build the prison have been deleted from the budget presented to Congress by the President.

Dick Gerrish, administrative assistant in Senator Cooper's office told News Editor Jo Westpheling in Washington last week that when the appropriation for that project is presented to the Senate it may be included in the public works program of the Government.

Mr. Gerrish revealed that F. S. Bennett, chairman of the Federal Bureau of Prisons appeared before the House Committee and revealed that several sites in Western Kentucky were being given serious consideration for the project, but a location could not be determined unless funds were forthcoming from the Federal Government.

A concerted effort has been made by local business and civic leaders to have the prison located in this area.

CHAMBER APPOINTS COMMITTEE HEADS FOR COMING YEAR

Board decides to meet
Monthly and require
Quarterly Reports

The Board of Directors of the Fulton-South Fulton Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday evening at seven at the Post-office. Charles Reams, newly elected president, conducted the business session. Eleven of the fourteen directors were present.

It was the unanimous decision of all present that monthly meetings of the Board should be held. The fourth Monday of each month at noon was decided upon. The place of the meeting to be announced later.

The Editors of the press and radio are to be invited to attend each monthly meeting. It is the opinion of the Board that to have a successful Chamber of Commerce the entire community must know what is being done, in order to be interested and take his or her part in the Chamber's work. The Chamber of Commerce is as active and successful as the members of the community make it.

The following committee chairmen were announced for the coming year: Industrial Committee, R. P. Burcham; Agricultural, C. P. Williams, Jr.; Agricultural, C. P. Williams, Jr.; Agricultural, C. P. Williams, Jr.

NANCY GOING GREAT, PLANS TO RETURN SATURDAY, MONTELE SAYS FROM N. Y.

NEW YORK news from Montelle Tripp (Wednesday noon): Nancy's fan mail has been "terrible" from all over the nation, Montelle told the NEWS.

On Wednesday morning, Fultonians watching CBS over Channel 12, Cape Girardeau, missed a couple of numbers that Nancy did that were broadcast and not telecast. (As a matter of fact Cape did not carry the first fifteen minutes of the Wednesday show, and many missed Nancy's appearance completely.) The show goes over TV for an hour, but over CBS radio for an hour and a half, Montelle told the NEWS. And don't forget that Friday AM show is NOT on TV, but on CBS network for 1 1/2 hours.

"Do you think Nancy will be invited back after she returns to Fulton to complete graduation requirements?" Montelle said she asked several companion performers of Nancy. "To us, THAT'S the understatement of the year," Montelle replied as their answer.

Evidently, the presentation of the ukulele by Godfrey caused a flurry of good-natured excitement and approval all around the studio and Hotel Knickerbocker, with everyone down to bellboys offering congratulations.

Despite urging of Godfrey and companion entertainers, Nancy hasn't attempted any recordings yet, Montelle stated. Probably hasn't had time away from the strenuous performance and rehearsal session, which begin at 7:00 a.m. and last till middle of the afternoon.

Montelle stated that CBS officials told her that they detected a possible beginning of "fan clubs" for Nancy in some areas. When do they plan to return to Fulton? If Nancy is not invited for another week, the

New Hospital Will Be Built In Fulton

Fulton is going to get a brand-new hospital, according to an announcement released Wednesday morning by Doctors Crocker and Blankenship, who will own and operate it.

The new, ultra-modern, completely air-conditioned building will be located on spacious grounds on the U. S. 45 by-pass, on what was formerly known as the E. C. Reeds property. It will be located adjacent to the City park and across the highway from the Health center building.

The new hospital will be known as "Hillview" Hospital.

Grading and footing work is expected to begin within a week at the site, the doctors told the News. The entire structure will be on one floor and constructed of fireproof steel and concrete, veneered in brick. It will meet all directives of hospital construction.

The initial plant will contain 28 beds, with an increase in the number of private rooms when future expansion is necessary. The initial number of private rooms in the new hospital will be more than the private rooms in the building that Drs. Crocker and Blankenship now operate on Main Street.

Opening has been tentatively set for late summer or early fall.

25,000 BALLOTS CAST IN WFUL'S SCHOOL CONTEST

Dale Breeden Is
Winner Of Watch
Given to Senior

Dale Breeden a senior at Fulton High School and Wanda Garner a senior in the Dresden High School were the winners in the Senior Watch contest conducted by Radio Station WFUL. Runners up were Jimmie Spikes and Bobby Klutz, also of Dresden.

Winner of the radio, was Jimmie Hicks, a junior of the Fulgham Community, who received more votes among the juniors entering the contest for the radio.

Station Manager Jo Westpheling said that more than 25,000 ballots were cast in the contest and contestants from 29 schools entered. A contestant from Mounds, Illinois received a large number of votes from WFUL listeners in that city.

The watches awarded in the contest were donated by Warren Radio Company and the radio was donated by Roper Radio Company both Fulton firms.

The contest was one based on popular ballot. The watches were awarded to the most popular senior boy and the most popular senior girl in a area, either boy or girl, in a high school in the WFUL listening area.

FIRST YOU OUGHT TO LEARN HOW TO COUNT, Rob Strom, winner of $192,000 on the $64,000 Question TV show, tells News reporters Jo Westpheling and Mary-Nelle Wright in New York last week. Sitting on the step of the famous isolation booth, the reporters interview Rob as he in turn snaps a picture of them. The photo above was taken by Dave Davis of New York United Press staff. Dear Pat,
I have written before and I'm writing again for I have a few questions to ask you. I enjoy your column very much. Will I have to quit school this year because of my mother's health? Will I pass all of my subjects, if I don't quit this year? Will my mother ever get well? Will we sell our farm and move somewhere else this year? Will I get married this year? If so, when?

Does this boy I like very much care anything about me? Will I marry this boy I like very much? Does E. W. love me?

Thank you,
J. B.

Dear J. B.,
No you will not quit school this year; yes you will pass; there isn't anything seriously wrong with your Mother, every woman goes thru this stage, she will be alright. No you will not sell your farm you will stay where you are; no, you will not marry this year. Yes, the boy you like, likes you but you will not marry him. You have not as yet met your mate. No, E. W. doesn't love you he likes you, but there's a lot of difference between love and like.

Dear Patricia Latane,
Good lady, can you help me? I am a widower and have been writing to some widow lady. I fell in love with her and she said she did me. Suddenly she meets another man and they fell in love with each other.

Which man does she really love and will their courtship go through? Will I get one of these other women I have written to, or will I have to look elsewhere. Also, will my present work plans go through, that I have in mind to do.

Thanks a Million,
Your Pal and Friend,
R. J.

Dear R. J.,
Men as well as women are so foolish. I never knew until the last 4 or 5 years that you could sit down and write a few letters, and get a husband or wife but now-a-days that seems to be the proper way to do things. Also you read every few days in the paper where some poor-sour man or woman has joined a lonely hearts club, as you have, and the minute the woman or man got their hands on what little they had they either left or killed them. I just don't understand it when there are widows right here that you could marry. But now to answer your questions. She doesn't love either of you she will marry the one that has the most and it looks like the other fellow has; yes you will get one of the other women you have been writing to. Yes, your work plans will go through.

Dear Miss Patricia Latane,
I am writing to ask you a question. Please tell me if you please. My cousin died and left some property, and I am the only one to get it. They want to sell the house and lot, and said what was left I would get the rest of the money. After expenses was paid, they tried to beat me out of the money. Tell me what to do. Please send me the answer in next paper, if you can.

W. P. T.

Dear W. P. T.,
See a lawyer at once and explain all details; if not you will wake up with nothing.

Dear Patricia,
As one that is interested in the Obion County Teacher's, I would like to know, if the teachers are going to get their raise in salary from the county this fall.

Thanks,
M. D. P.

Dear M. D. P.,
Yes the teachers will get a raise but not what has been asked for them, but they will get a nice raise.

Dear Pat,
Please answer some questions for me. About 5 years ago, my sister gave me some earrings, and I never did wear them for they were lost or stolen before I could get a chance to wear them. Would you please tell me what went with them, and I also had a new dress taken from my chest. Would you give me the initial of the one who took them. Will my daughter ever marry. Does my husband love me?

Thank you,
B. G. H.

Dear B. G. H.,
The colored person that took these things, their initials is B. Yes, your daughter will marry. Yes, your husband loves you.

Dear Miss Latane,
I wrote to you asking when my mother would be happy. You said that in the summer she would have a different outlook on life. Just what kind of outlook?

My mother is planning on moving out to herself with her two children. I would like to know if this is a wise move or should she still stay with my father even though they are not happy?

If she does move will this make her and the children happy or will it make the children unhappy?

If and when she does move, will my father sell out or what will happen to the farm? If he does sell where will he go

Thank you,
D. F. R.

Dear D. F. R.,
When I told you she would have a different outlook on life that is just what I mean; your Mother thinks she can just go out and get a job and make a living for herself and the children without a minutes trouble, but she's wrong all wrong, and by the middle of the summer or in other words a couple of months away from her husband and she will find out she thinks more of him than she thought she did and will be ready to go back home and all the nonsense will be gone. Your father will plan on selling out in the fall but they will be back together by this time and they will continue to live on the farm and will be happier than they have been in quite some time.

Dear Pat
I enjoy reading the letters in the news. Please answer these questions for me.
How will that business in Chicago wind up? Will I profit by it? Will the Adm. contrary me? Will the relatives give trouble? When will the settlement be? Anxious to know. Thanks.

Yours truly,
O. D. E.

Dear O. D. E.,
It will be quit some time before a settlement is made as it will be contested by the relatives. You will profit, but not as much as you think as court cost and lawyers will get the most of it.

Dear Patricia Latane,
I have been reading your replies to the people who've written you and I would like for you to answer these questions for me if you will please.

Will my husband and I always be as happy as we are now? Will we ever have any more children? Will we be able to get a better car soon? If so, what kind? Will we own our own home? If so, when and what kind will it be? Will my husband have any luck finding what he is looking for?

Will my father be successful in the contest he is in? Will he ever be out of debt? Will my brother straighten out now?

Will my mother's eyesight be improved? If so, how? Thank you and I'll be waiting for the answers.

Yours truly,
Mrs. R. A.

Mrs. R. A.,
Yes, you and your husband will continue to be just as happy as you now are; no you will not have anymore children. You will get a new Ford car within the next 3 or 4 months; as for a home you will not try to buy one before 1959 but then you will. No your husband will not find what he is looking for. No your Father will not be successful; no he will never be out of debt. No your brother will never be any better. Yes your mother's eyesight will be improved by treatments from a doctor and glasses.

Dear Pat,
This is my first time to write but I read you, column every week. Please answer these questions for me. Will my mother-in-law get well, if so, when? What will happen about our debt to the deceased in another state?

Will I ever have any more children? Will this be a good year for us or will things always be against us?

Have we wasted our money or just had bad luck? Will my brother ever come back home to live? Will my husband ever get a good job? When? Where? Please answer these questions for me.

P. S. How come my in-law's house to burn. Was it accidental or how did it catch?

Thanks,
Worried

Dear Worried:
Your Mother-in-law's health will never be any better. No you will never be out of debt unless your husband takes over the management of the money as you have no value what so ever where there is a dollar. Yes you will have another child; a girl. Yes you waste money. It will be a good year for us. No if he would do as I say. No your brother will never come back home to live. Your husband will continue to work where he is now working. Defective wiring set the house on fire.

Dear Patricia,
Enjoy reading your letters each week and would like to ask a few questions. Do you know where my husband's money is? Will I come out all right in the lawsuit I have started?

Do you think I was in the wrong or will anyone ever be able to live with him? Will I ever find peace of mind and happiness.

Thank you,
M. F. F.

Dear M. F. F.,
Your husband's money has been entrusted with a friend. No you will not do any good with the lawsuit. You are the one in the wrong. Yes he will find someone who will be more than glad to live with him. No

Sunday School services commence at the Church of Christ at 10:00 with preaching services commencing at 11:00 a. m. and 7:00 p. m. The regular minister is Brother Hoyt Barnett of Hickman, Kentucky. Mid-week services are held on each Wednesday night at 7:30. The many friends of this you will never find peace or happiness as you will worry about a dollar the rest of your life.

Dear Patricia Latane,
I am writing you a few lines to see if you can tell me if my life will change. I have had a very hard time.

Miss Latane, I had a ring that was very precious to me, that disappeared some time after Nov. 24, 1956, and please tell me if there is any luck in my future after this. Hope you can help me.

Thank you,
M. T. B.

Dear M. T. B.,
The ring you are referring to has not been lost nor stolen. It is in the pocket of a pair of pants you pulled it off while washing.

Last Week

Perhaps television has never been enjoyed locally so much as Monday night when Nancy Adams was presented by Jo Westpheling on the Arthur Godfrey Show. I am sure more people will make a sure date to see each of the morning programs, this week with the expectation of seeing Nancy again.

Of course, we will be looking for Lucille and Mary Nell, on the different programs from New York for they sure will want to attempt to keep up with Jo and Nancy. Good luck and best wishes to them.

Many visitors were in the community over the Easter vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McKnight and Lovell arrived on Wednesday for a visit with relatives in this community, and at Dyer, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Irvin and daughters from Knoxville arrived Thursday for a few days visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Simpson and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Terrell enjoyed a most pleasant weekend with their children and their families spending the weekend. This was the first visit for Billie Harolds new son.

Mr. and Mrs. Huel Wright and sons were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ches Morrison for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Morrison from Memphis visited home-folks during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Durrell Terrell are having hard-wood floors put in their home this week and are doing much more redecorating.

From all appearances now, it appears that strawberry picking will begin next week in this community. Some picking will be done in the southern part of the county this week.

Pure Milk Company Introduces New Style Of Buttermilk Here

Recently the sales personnel and management of Pure Milk Company held a company sales meeting, where they enjoyed an excellent dinner, and launched the sale of their new product "Country Flake" buttermilk.

W. P. Burnette, general manager of the dairy products company, told the over twenty assembled employees about the company policy of bringing on the finest of dairy products to their customer. Burnette pointed out the importance of this completely new "Country Flake" buttermilk, stating that no expense had been spared in procuring the very finest of stainless steel equipment to process this fine product.

David Phelps, sales manager, introduced the guest speaker, J. Fred Monroe, of G. P. Gundlach and Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, who specialize in the manufacture and sale of excellent dairy foods. The many points of superiority were discussed, "Country Flake" buttermilk is milder, and has a distinctive different flavor, it has uniformity, and has real flakes of butter, reminiscent of the old days on the farm. And while Monroe in pointing out the appealing taste of "Country Flake" buttermilk as one of its prime assets, he was quick to point out its many health giving qualities, stating that it was an excellent dietary food.

David Phelps discussed the method in which the new product would be rushed fresh daily to the food stores and housewives.

"Country Flake" buttermilk is made under strict laboratory control and is an exclusive product of Pure Milk Company.

The big things you want cost less in a Mercury Monterey!

YOU HAVE TO PAY OVER $88 MORE to get a 4-barrel carburetor as standard equipment in any competitive car. And Mercury's Thermo-Matic Carburetor is the only one that controls the temperature of the air the engine breathes.

YOU HAVE TO PAY OVER $130 MORE to match the Monterey's brake size in any other car. The Monterey actually has bigger brakes than most of the highest priced cars!

YOU HAVE TO PAY OVER $150 MORE to match Mercury's standard 255 horsepower in any competitive car. And the Monterey's optional engine offers a blazing 335 horsepower!

YOU HAVE TO PAY OVER $200 MORE to get any other car with real dual headlamps. No other car at the Monterey's price even offers duals. You can get Quadri-Beam headlamps, a true 4-beam system, on all 19 Mercury models.

YOU HAVE TO PAY OVER $500 MORE to match the Monterey's standard compression in any competitive car. Its compression ratio of 9.75 to 1 is close to the highest you can get in any car.

YOU HAVE TO PAY OVER $1,000 MORE to match The Big M Monterey's hip room and rear seat leg room. Mercury has the biggest size increase in the industry—bigger in every important dimension!

YOU HAVE TO PAY OVER $2,000 MORE to match Mercury's width in any other car. You can match it only in America's three costliest cars!

And no other car at any price offers you Mercury's exclusive Floating Ride and Dream-Car Design. Stop in today. Let us show you all the reasons why the Mercury Monterey is the easiest big car to drive, to ride in, to look at, and to buy.

The price comparisons stated are based on factory suggested retail delivered prices.

BIGGEST VALUE INCREASE IN THE INDUSTRY! The Big M is up in size, in power, in luxury, in everything that counts in a car. But the price is still low—just an easy step up from the low-priced three.

New York is a wonderful place. The travel books call it the glamour spot of America. And one needs only to be reminded of this fact when they stand in TIMES SQUARE at night and watch the gaudy dazzle of spangled effects made possible through the miracle of electricity.

I might write on — and on about the people who live in this urbanized community where life is carried on to such a degree by pushing buttons, telephoning orders: where so many people spend most of their lives under artificial light — and — as a result, they are sleek and PALEFACED.

It was a constant source of amazement to watch the pace set by the thousands of people who spend the major part of their lives walking, walking — hurrying — pushing their way to their destination. But — that's NEW YORK! The frontier for people with brains, ambition and talent. And to quote an authority, Frederic Lewis Allen, "And the sense that the city is a free-for-all where anybody with a gift, and push, and luck — especially luck — may be able to arrive, if not at wealth or fame, at least at recognition hard to come by elsewhere."

And I was able to understand what Frederic Lewis Allen had written when I attended the fabulous Revlon show, The $64,000 Question. It was on Tuesday night when a genius — little Rob Strom — put an end to it all. Or his dad did, at any rate.

Those of you who have followed the show which revealed the potentialities of this little 10-year-old boy will want to know more of him — I am sure. I was fortunate enough to have an interview with his mother who was surely one of the kindest people I met in the whole city of New York.

After the show we gathered on the stage with other newspaper people and cameramen who were just as eager to talk with little Rob, his mother, his dad and his brother. And I think one of the greatest thrills I shall ever have was to "listen in" on the many interviews by reporters from the leading newspapers of our nation.

In due course I walked over to Mrs. Strom, held out my hand and said, "Mrs. Strom, I am from a small town, Kentucky newspaper and I wonder if I might have just a minute of your time." And this gracious lady who has been designed by reporters clasped my hand and answered, "My dear, NOTHING would give me greater pleasure than to talk to one from a small town — because they are the REAL people — and the real friends of our Rob."

The Stroms live in the Bronx right across the street from New York University. Mrs. Strom laughed when I said, "Do you think some of the university knowledge 'rubbed off' on Rob?" But of course, I knew immediately after talking with her for just a minute that Rob had inherited much of his genius — from his mother.

Rob, as you know, is in the fifth grade in Public School 26 in the Bronx. And he's just like any other little boy. He plays ball, he loves his little friends. He has a real sense of humor — and he's happy and contented. Some of the men on the set at the TV show told me that everyone loves him there and that you never know what he will do next. When it is just about time for Rob to go "on the air" — he might be climbing on some of the scenery backstage — or rolling a marble along the floor.

Mrs. Strom told me that they first realized Rob's genius when he was just four years old. She said, "The greatest injustice that parents do to their children is NOT to be able to realize their potentialities at an early age. Parents must be able to understand that a child's MIND must be FED just the same as his BODY. We are NOT PROUD of Rob's success — we are HUMBLE. We are HUMBLE because God has bestowed this gift upon our little son and that we were able to recognize this gift."

Mr. Strom explained that Rob had acted in a "commendable fashion to all of the turmoil attendant on his meteoric financial rise." The strain, he said, was on HIMSELF and his WIFE. And I am CERTAIN of this because little Rob showed NO strain when he was with us. He stayed backstage for over an hour with photographers besieging him, proudly revealed that he also had won $15.00 in a school contest for an electric brain he built in a cheesebox.

It was a wonderful experience to be with such REAL people and to have a darling little boy put his arm around you and say, "Let's see, didn't you say you were from Kentucky? Some day I'm going down to Kentucky — myself." Yes, this is little Rob Strom a science expert who won $192,000 — and yet — he's just an ordinary 10-year-old who loves people, plays marbles, ball — just like any other boy — and when asked what he thought of not going further in the Quid Show — he merely shrugged his shoulders and popped a non-pay rhetorical question: "What can you do with parents?"

Miss Martha Bateman

MISS BATEMAN WILL ADDRESS MEETING

The First District Conference of the Kentucky Christian Women's Fellowship will be held Monday, May 6, in the Christian Church at Fulton with registration beginning at 9:30 a. m. according to Mrs. Lewis Sowell, district secretary.

On Sunday, May 5, the area guild meeting of K. C. W. F. will be held in the Bardwell Christian Church beginning with a luncheon at 12:30 p. m. This meeting is planned for employed women. Members of the State Guild Committee scheduled for the meeting are Miss Joaquin Seltzer, Paducah, and Miss Laselda Hamby, Dawson Springs.

The missionary speaker for the two meetings will be Miss Martha Bateman, an educational missionary who has served for 35 years at Monieka, Belgian Congo. There she has been superintendent of local mission schools. Having completed her service in Congo, she returned to the United States in 1955.

GUEST

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Taylor had as their guests last week, their son, W. H. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor's sister, Mrs. J. F. Wiseman, and Mrs. Alda Taylor all of Memphis.

Nancy Adams —

(Continued from Page One) party will arrive at Paducah airport Saturday afternoon at 3:15 pm and the local welcome will probably get underway somewhere around 4:30 p. m. It all hinges on what happens Friday morning on the radio program, Montelle stated, so those who plan to stage the "welcome home" should listen Friday to find out. WFUL will carry the announcement following the program.

Should Nancy stay another week, mail should be addressed to her in care of the "Arthur Godfrey Talent Scouts, CBS, New York City". Who knows what's ahead?

Mrs. Charles Wade of Greenville, Miss., is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. L. Cox.

Mrs. Robert C. Cash

Martha Sue Holland and Robert C. Cash Are Wed Saturday At St. Edward's Church

In a lovely candlelight setting Miss Martha Sue Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holland became the bride of Robert C. Cash, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Cash of Fancy Farm on Saturday, April 27, at the St. Edwards Church. Father Carral officiated using the double ring ceremony.

The altar of the church was beautiful with Calla Lillies forming a background. White candles burned in tiered candleabras. Large arrangements of pink gladioli and yellow mums with pink bows were on either side of the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Joe Holland, wore a Joel wedding gown of crystalline over white slipper satin. The fitted bodice had a deep bertha of hand-run slenon lace which gave an off the shoulder effect. The deep points of the bodice extended to the voluminous illusion skirt which was designed in redingate fashion to reveal the satin. The skirt worn over hoops developed into a long train. Long lace edged illusion mitts formed points over the hands. Her three quarter length veil of imported illusion fell in deep points from a coronet of pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a white prayer book topped with a purple orchid and lilies of the valley showered with white satin ribbon.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Bill Fenwick and bridesmaid, Miss Wanda Holland, sisters of the bride wore identical formal frocks of nylon net over taffeta with shirred bodices embroidered with pearls. They wore matching headresses of flowery orchid and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and the bridesmaid wore blue and carried pink carnations.

Bill Fenwick, cousin of the groom, was best man and David Holland, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Irvin Cash the groom's brother and Billy Holland, brother of the bride, were the ushers.

For her daughters wedding Mrs. Holland chose a dress of midnight blue lace. The flared skirt was trimmed with bands of matching taffeta. She wore a large picture hat of rustling straw braid and her other accessories were black and a corsage of white carnation. Mrs. Cash, the groom's mother, wore a blue faille suit with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Fulton Womens Club. Spring flowers and candles were used in decoration.

The brides table draped in a cut work cloth with a tiered wedding cake topped with a bride and groom and a crystal punch service at either end centered with crystal candleabra with pink candles. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Joe Holland, Mrs. Billy Holland, Mrs. Joe Welch, Miss Nancy Holland and Miss Virginia Forrest.

Early in the afternoon the couple left for an unannounced honeymoon after which they will reside in Louisville, Ky. For traveling Mrs. Cash wore a black linen sheath dress with white and white checked bolera jacket. Her accessories were white and she wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Out of town guests were the brides grandmother, Mrs. J. N. Wooten and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Holland and Larrie of Detroit, Mich.

RETURNED HOME

Mrs. R. L. Hitchcock and children Dee Ann and Robert Lee of Louisville, Ky. have returned home after spending several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham. Enroute home they were joined by Mr. Hitchcock, who had attended a two-day R. P. A. Conference at Kenlake, Hotel.

Mr. Bailey

Liberation from disease, sin, and all discord through understanding and application of the unlimited power of God will be the topic of a lecture to be delivered in Fulton, Kentucky on May 10, 1957 by Arch Bailey of San Francisco, California.

Mr. Bailey is currently on an extensive tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. He will speak under the auspices of Christian Science Society, Fulton, Kentucky in the church auditorium at 8:00 p. m. His subject will be Christian Science: A Science for Everyday Living. The public is invited to attend without charge.

JANE REPORTS ON Homemakers

By Jane Watts

This is National Home Demonstration Week. Fulton County homemakers will observe the week by exhibiting some of their years' work. The subject of our major project for this year is "Time and Energy Management". The Hickman club has placed an exhibit in the window of the K. U. office at Hickman which consist of a lap table with an iron holder attached, a comfortable chair and a rack nearby for ironed articles. This is equipment for sit-down ironing, the method which saves the homemaker's back and feet many tiresome aches. The Bennett club is arranging a similar exhibit in the window of the K. U. office at Fulton. Stop by these windows and study these exhibits.

The Rush Creek homemakers met for their April lesson in the home of Mrs. Loyd Call with M. F. Glidewell, Jr., serving as co-hostess.

The major project lesson, "Ironing the Easier Way" was given by the leaders, Mrs. Albert Moss and Mrs. John D. Brown. The lesson included a demonstration of ironing with a hand-iron and with an automatic electric ironer. Mrs. Call gave the landscape notes on the care of lawns, evergreens and pruning of blooming shrubs.

The Montgomery club met Thursday, April 19, in the home of Mrs. Nelson Hickerson. Twelve members and three visitors were present.

Projects for next year were discussed and voted upon.

The lesson on ironing was given by Mrs. Mill Shaw, Jr., and Mrs. Paul Hornsby.

Mrs. Charles Hickerson was welcomed to the club as a new member.

The Fulton Homemakers held their April meeting at the K. U. office. Mrs. Harry Allison read the scripture and gave a book review on "Indigo Bend".

Mrs. H. G. Butler and Mrs. Robert Holland gave the lesson on "Making Ironing Easier" and demonstrated several methods of ironing.

The Bennett Homemakers also met at the K. U. office with the lesson on ironing given by Mrs. Bill Fenwick and Mrs. Ardell Harrington, assisted by Mrs. Robert Holland. The members learned newer and quicker methods of doing this chore.

Thirteen members and two visitors attended the meeting. Mrs. O. C. Croft gave the devotional and the reading lesson. Mrs. Bob Davis gave the timely landscape notes and Mrs. Van Latta conducted the recreation.

New York Trip

(Continued from Page One) the Bowery, and a score of other outstanding points of interest. We saw the city in one of those glass-top busses and for country gals like the four of us, we enjoyed looking way up in the sky, looking at the tall buildings, and trying to find a ray of sunshine. You just can't see no sunshine no more in New York.

Sunday night we had an opportunity to see the Ed Sullivan show "live," but we decided against it, since Nancy and I wanted to look fresh and sharp the next day, and thought the rest would be far more advantageous than seeing Sullivan.

Monday was a picnic for all of us. Everybody was trying to put on the big act trying to comfort the other about the impending magnitude of the big show. Nancy, the one upon whom rested the greatest responsibility for her performance was the calmest of all. It was Nancy who kept telling me "Jo, I'm more worried about you than I am about myself. There's nothing to be afraid of."

She was qualified to say that. She's got real, real talent. She knows what she can do. My ability to perform on a nation-wide TV show was the biggest gamble in the world.

Nancy was requested to be at the theatre on Broadway at four p. m. on Monday for rehearsal and make-up. I was to be there at 5:30 p. m. for the same reason. When I got to the theatre Nancy was being made-up by the make-up artist who did the stars for "Carousel," "On the Waterfront," "Pajama Game," etc. They were great artists in their field. And Nancy was a beautiful subject to make more beautiful. They didn't have to work very hard.

Undoubtedly when they took one look at me, my haggard look, my wrinkles, my drooping circles around the eyes, they decided to import the best make-up artists in the field. The gent who lifted my face and the lady who did my coiffure, were the make-up artists from the "$64,000 question," "My Fair Lady," and perhaps the Lon Chaney show. You well remember, that hardly any of you recognized me. I looked so glamorous. Would that I could hire those folks on retainer.

With just a few points of interest of events leading up to our appearance you might want to know that Arthur Godfrey is a nice, easy-going fellow.

He arrived about thirty minutes before the show and although he passed within inches of Nancy and me, backstage, we were not permitted to say hello or to nod the time of day.

Was I nervous? As Nancy asked me once and I said, "No," she said, "Well, then your ear-rings are nervous."

The fact of the matter is I was scared to death. Tony Marvin stood by me every minute he was not on the air, trying to calm my nerves. I had several great fears. One of them was that I would miss that step on the rostrum where Godfrey sits and I would fall flat on my face before the show and perhaps in Godfrey's lap.

That would have been a sensational entrance.

Another was that I would freeze and not be able to answer that first question.

Here and now let me say that all of us shall be ever indebted to Cleo Peoples of the Harvey Caldwell Company and the Fruit Dispatch Company, for the fine plugs that I was able to give Fulton on the show. Cleo wired Nancy and me best wishes on Monday and in his wire he said: "Don't forget the banana capital of the world."

That did it I made up my mind that I would do everything I could to steer the conversation to Fulton although all of us were cautioned to let Godfrey carry the ball of the conversation, not to inject any comments of our own. I knew that when he asked me where I was from and when I would tell him "the banana capital of the world," (a little exaggerated) the conversation would never get back to me or my various interests. And that's the way I wanted it most of all.

The rest all of you know. I have had several people say, "Why didn't you say so-and-so?" Let me tell you folks one thing. When you're on that rostrum, you know your time is limited, you know you want to give every opportunity to your talent and hope you do a good job, you do well to remember your own name, much less elaborate on certain issues.

And so I'm home from New York. I would have loved to have stayed with Nancy and Lucille these exciting past days. But Mary Jo makes her First Communion on Sunday, and her little heart would have broken if I had not been home to make plans for that big event in her little life. The radio station and the News needed me, and so did the rest of my family... some day when Nancy gets more famous I'll be more able to bask in her glory nearer the scene of the limelight.

Elsewhere in this issue Mary-Nelle tells you about a wonderful experience we had at the $64,000 question show.

Nancy and Lucille didn't go. Nancy has a terrific schedule each day with rehearsals, costume and practice and has to be at the studio at 7:45 a. m. each day. She needed the rest and on that particular day she rehearsed for six straight hours.

Meanwhile keep watching Nancy and send her your best wishes and by all means send some fan mail to CBS, 485 Madison Avenue, New York. That will mean a lot to her future career.

In case you're wondering about that wonderful audience and the tremendous applause Nancy received... always remember there were only eight people in that audience technically "on our side." They were Margaret and Ike Read, Margaret's mother and a friend of theirs from Tuckaloo, and Tommy Nall and his lovely lady friend. And of course Mary-Nelle and Lucille.

And in closing let me leave you with one thought. The congratulations you have so generously handed me for the fine plugs I gave to Fulton on the nation-wide hook-up are only a by-product of Nancy Adams' tremendous talent. Had it not been for Nancy Adams I would never have been on the program and consequently the "plugs" and the resulting publicity would perhaps never have been ours.

We owe a lot to Nancy Adams... to her fine family for nurturing her talent, and to Montelle Tripp, who saw Nancy's talent years ago and developed it into the tremendous success that Nancy is today.

PHONE COMPANY UPPS RATES

The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company announced today that the increases in rates granted by the Public Service Commission on April 22 1957 will become effective in Fulton on May 11, 1957.

In the order issued by the Commission, the toll rate schedule was redesigned. The new schedule provides for a new two-minute initial period on long distance calls. Studies have shown that a majority of the day station to station calls last less than two minutes. For this reason it is felt the new two minute rate schedule will be popular with the public. This new schedule will allow a customer to talk for four minutes after 6:00 p. m., and on Sunday at the rate that a two minute call would cost during the day.

Mr. Wiley pointed out that the person to person rates will be the same at all hours but the overtime rate after the initial period would be charged at the same rate as on station to station calls.

He said that it was hoped that the cheaper initial period rate on station to station calls will stimulate the use of this type of service. He pointed out that it will help prepare the public for "customer long distance dailing"

CAYCE PRESENTS SCHOOL PLAY ON FRIDAY EVENING

"Don't Take My Penny" Is Directed By Mrs. Leslie Walker

The Seniors of Cayce High School will present their class play on Friday evening, May 3, at eight o'clock in the school auditorium. Price will be 20c for children, and 35c for adults. This year's play is a three-act comedy, "Don't Take My Penny". It is being produced by special arrangement with the Dramatic Publishing Company.

The play, under the direction of Mrs. Leslie Walker, has the following cast:

Sally, a maid with a purpose, Clara McMurry; Norman Porter, a publicity man, Dale Clark; Penny, a pretty little miss, Janice Downey; Caleb, her absorbed father, Dan Weatherspoon; Mark, her farm-minded brother, Larry Henderson; Mavis, her attractive sister, Pat Jones; Lydia, her absorbed mother, Jeanette Roper; Joanna, her loyal girl friend, Barbara Turner; Kerry, her resourceful boyfriend, Jerry Douglas; Greg, his pal with ideas, Billy Curtisinger; Gram, just herself, Mattie Jo Sutton; Monsieur Henri, a French designer, William Armstrong; Claire, Elsie, Lucile, pretty young models, Wanda B. Norton, Agnes Ferguson, Sandra Hale; Red, a delivery boy, Neil Elks; and Harrison Day, a young author, Glynn Goodwin. The stage managers are Charles Hardison and Leon Shelton.

You are invited to attend this evening's entertainment. The Wade's Furniture Store is furnishing the furniture for the stage.

weather, people are getting their gardens planted.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Alvie Williams and Mrs. Hattie Isbell were Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Fields and Mrs. Henry Isbell.

Mrs. James Holt and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Jim Holt Saturday evening.

USE COCOA

Instead of dusting a greased pan with flour for a chocolate or devil's food cake, home economists at the University of Kentucky say to substitute cocoa, and thus avoid any white streaks on the rich brown crust.

MIDDLE ROAD Mrs. Jeff Harrison

Our sympathy is with the family of Mr. Estone Browder who passed away Thursday at the Fulton Hospital.

Mrs. A. L. Cox visited several days the past week with her mother Mrs. J. S. Couch.

We are sorry to know Mrs. Couch is very sick in the Obion County Hospital. We hope for her a speedy recovery.

We are glad to know Billy Gilbert is able to return home from the Fulton Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Harrison visited Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. George Black and Telitha.

Visitors of Emma Lou Cox Wednesday night were Diana Holly, Janice Brockwell, Joyce Bunton, Martha Dean McKelvey and Mildred Sue Wade.

Mrs. George Black and Telitha and Betty Ebert visited Wednesday night with Mrs. Hubert Bolton and Patsy.

Lewis Browder is visiting his father, Mr. E. L. Browder.

The Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Smithmier, visited Thursday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs.

A. L. Cox. Mrs. Hubbard Shell had as her house guest her mother from Hickman.

Travis Cox spent Sunday night with "Shorty" Perry.

Mr. and Mrs. George Black and family had as their guests Sunday, Mrs. Walter Ryder and Rodney of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Black and Ruby, Mr. and Mrs. James Black, Daris Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Harrison, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bolton and Charles Hubert.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bolton and Charles Hubert went to the lake Sunday.

"And That's Why They're Here"

By Wayne Anderson

No doubt all of us have noticed that guy who has been staring unblinkingly across the library for the last twenty-four years. To be specific, I mean that bust sitting on a carved stone shelf on the south wall.

There is only one thing you can tell for sure about the history of this noble head—it was presented to Fulton High School by the graduating class of 1928.

The first teacher I asked said that there had been two busts originally, but one was broken a few years ago. She thought that one was a bust of Daniel Webster, a famous pre-Civil War senator and orator, and the other was a bust of Horace Mann, the father of free public education.

Another teacher took a look at the bust and thought it was Julius Caesar. This set off an intensive search for, and study of, pictures of Caesar and Webster. She finally came to the conclusion that it was Caesar, because in every picture his hair was cut like the bust's, while Webster's was not. This was also the opinion of several others.

Opinions number four and five were Shakespeare and Frances Bacon, another English writer of Shakespeare's time.

It became apparent that the only way to find an answer to the mystery, besides holding a contest, was to ask a member of the Class of 1928, which donated it. Fortunately for me, one of our teachers graduated in that class. It is Webster, Mann, Caesar, Shakespeare, Bacon, or someone else? The verdict: Julius Caesar! She said that she thought that it was "indicative of the interest students used to have in Latin and art" and that "the idea probably would probably not even occur to a class today." Today the donations are useful things like ice water fountains instead of busts of Romans, even though they are not exactly cultural works of art.

All the mystery has not been cleared up yet. Which class donated the bust that returned dust, and who was HE?

The statue of General Robert E. Lee, which stands in the main hall, was given to the then new Fulton High School in 1923 by the Fulton Fortnightly Club, a local women's organization of that time.

The tall, hollow figure was made in Boston by an organization that specialized in statues. It was made of molders' clay, which, when tapped, sounds like neither metal, plaster, nor any other common material.

The most interesting thing about the statue is that all of its buckles—belt buckles, boot buckles and sword buckles—are backwards! Because of the way they are turned, they could not possibly work!

Mrs. Burrow summed up the statue's role in life when she said that it had "served its purpose well as a reminder of the South and Lee."

I hardly dare mention, especially without knocking on wood, that in all its thirty-four years, the noble old gentleman has never been defaced. Not even pencil marks have been found on him. This certainly shows that Fulton High School students have great respect for him, and in turn, they are more respected by others.

Proms In The Past

It has been said that in the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love and it might just as aptly be said that in the spring a young girl's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of the prom. Once again the girls of Fulton High are in a dither of preparations, and in many a group conversations are to be heard as to whether to wear the blue or the pink and should it be full length or waltz length or waltz length or perhaps ballerina. Of course, the boys won't like this, but it has been reliably reported that in more than one case, a young man has asked his mother to view his many form in the white coat he wore last year in order to be sure the sleeves are still long enough and the shoulders are still an easy fit.

The circumstances of the first Fulton High Spring Prom are now shrouded in the mists of the past, but it is thought that the upcoming prom will be the eleventh such occasion. Nineteen forty four is the approximate date of the first one and they have been held annually since with the exception of the three years the Juniors and Seniors made the trip to New Orleans. Traditionally the prom is an entertainment arranged by the Juniors to honor the Seniors, but in recent years it has been extended to include the lower classmen as well.

Various motifs have been used as backgrounds for these memorable and thrilling evenings of frolic and romance. Among them have been a star dust theme, a garden scene, grape arbor motif, a beautiful Old South background, and the unusual underwater theme of last year. This year's plans will remain a dark and well guarded secret until May 3 rolls round.

Plans For Graduation Exercises Are Made

Plans are being made for the graduation exercises in the Fulton Schools.

Commencement exercises for Carr will be held on Wednesday night, May 22, in the auditorium. James A. Fisher, Sr., Pastor of the Broadway Methodist Church in Paducah, will speak to the eighth grade graduating class on "Guidance to Success."

The baccalaureate service for Fulton High School will be held at the Baptist Church on Sunday, May 19. Reverend John Laida will deliver the sermon.

Fulton High's commencement exercises will be held on Thursday, May 23 in the auditorium. Mr. Milton C. Anderson, attorney from Wickliffe, Kentucky, will be the speaker.

Quill And Scroll Society Plans Several Projects

On March 27, 1957, the Mary Hughes Burrow chapter of the Quill and Scroll met in Mrs. Burrow's room. The meeting was called to order by the president, Ella Doyle, and every one repeated the pledge in unison. Old business was discussed, and it was unanimously voted that Paul and Jo Westpheling and Mr. K. M. Winston be accepted as honorary members of the chapter.

Projects for an active chapter were discussed, and committees for various community and school projects were selected. Susan McDaniel was appointed chairman of the book committee, Marion Blackstone was chosen chairman of the foreign exchange committee, and Barbara Boyd chairman of the radio committee. Barbara Boyd had charge of a program concerning newspaper work.

REFRESHMENT

JUNIORS COMPLETE PLANS FOR PROM

Throughout the year the juniors have held a series of projects to earn money for the prom.

In the fall the juniors began raising money with a magazine sale. In November the class produced a junior folio. They are now selling candy to raise more money.

A few weeks ago various committees were appointed. The Prom Committee found several themes and presented them to the class. Anne Fall was chairman of this committee, and other members of the committee were Barbara Boyd, Susan McDaniel, Jerry Page, Ella Doyle, Judy Browning, Bud White, Afton Jackson, and Joe Barnes. By popular vote the class selected its theme.

After the theme was decided upon, other committees were appointed. Chosen to supervise the banquet were Susan McDaniel, Bud White, Jackie Rawles, Jerry Page and Joe Barnes.

Those appointed to the decorations committee were Anne Fall, Barbara Boyd, Bud White, Patsy Grooms, Diane Wright, Sue Moore, Jerry Page, Joe Barnes, Linda Arrington, Afton Jackson, Diane Wright, Christine Sons and Virginia Page.

The Juniors hope this will be one of the most beautiful proms in the history of Fulton High, and that everyone will have a wonderful time.

ELABORATE FUNERALS

Funerals are the chief social and artistic outlet for Tiwi tribesmen on Melville Island. To put the deceased's evil spirit properly to rest, the death ceremonies are carried on for months, culminating in a final ritual called pukamani. The man who leads this dance requires five hours to make up. His camouflage—including a beard of goose feathers set in beeswax, a ball of goose down hung by human hair around his neck, and heavy paint and powder—is designed to prevent his recognition by the dead man's spirit.

SPRING FOOTBALL PRACTICE ENDED

With the practice session Wednesday, April 17th, spring football training was brought to a close.

These practices were for the purpose of finding capable replacements for the members of the 1956-57 team who will graduate in May and to get a better look at the reserves who are expected to see considerable service next year.

Although rain and wet grounds caused cancellation of several practices, Coach Thomas feels that the team made progress.

It is hoped by Fulton High School students that this progress will be carried over to next fall and that we can have another successful football season.

Mrs. Binkley Retires After 18 Years At FHS

Mrs. Chester Binkley, manager of the cafeteria, is retiring at the end of the year. Her place will be taken by Mrs. Bessie Green.

Mrs. Binkley has worked in the cafeteria for eighteen years. The first cafeteria was in the old science hall. Then it was moved into the new building when it was finished. She said the number of students that they feed now has tripled since those days. She believes students are about the same as in former years, although they are more courteous now.

When asked if she had anything to say about her work, she said, "It has been hard work most of the time, but I have enjoyed it because I love children so much."

The basis of mankind's clocks, the turning of the earth itself, varies slightly. It sometimes speeds up, then slows down. These differences, are minute. From 1820 to 1880 the earth "lost" 27/100ths of a second, the National Geographic Society says.

VIVE LA FRANCE

The number of visitors to France from the United States increased 14 per cent in 1955 over the previous year's. Travel is one goal which Americans are attaining through U. S. Savings Bonds.

Four-Year Farm Price Dip May be Changing

Prices received by Tennessee farmers, on the decline for the past four years, may be on the rise again, according to the latest report from the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Tennessee.

Through February of this year, farmers received slightly higher prices for their products, the Bureau noted, "giving further hope that the downward movement had passed."

Tennessee's economy generally was at a sustained high level of activity during February, the report showed, moving in a "sidewise" direction. The Bureau expects "no great change" either upward or downward within the next few months.

February retail sales in the state were almost 10 per cent above the same month last year. Although new automobile sales remained slightly below February, 1956, the total sales picture in Tennessee "reflected heavy consumer enthusiasm," according to the Bureau.

Construction activity remained at a low point during the month, with present and future plans for residential building pointing to further declines in that area of the economy.

A slight drop in manufacturing employment in the state during February was offset by employment gains in non-manufacturing fields. Average hourly earnings for the month were increasing slightly, as average hours worked remained about on a par with previous months.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Organized Religion and the American Creed

By Peter F. Drucker, Professor, New York University*

Many people know that Thomas Jefferson coined the famous phrase "a wall of separation between Church and State." But few people realize that this phrase is to be found in a letter that Jefferson wrote to a religious group, a group of New England Baptists — a letter which expresses a profound belief in the religious basis of society.

IN THIS country, state and church cannot be conceived as contradictions; they are necessarily complementary to each other. The closest communion between religion and society has been characteristic of this country from the start of its independence.

More than a hundred years ago Tocqueville wrote: "There is no country in the whole world in which the Christian religion retains a greater influence over the souls of men than in America. Religion is the foremost of the institutions of the country." And this is still true today.

ORGANIZED religion plays a part in our society which is altogether unknown elsewhere. One could not conceive of an English, a German, or a French business corporation going to the priest or minister to find out something about a man considered for an executive job. In this country it is standard procedure.

Social life and community activities center around the churches. The Girl Scouts meet in the basement of the church, the Parent Teachers Association in the Parish House and so do Road Commissioners in small communities. One of the local ministers opens the luncheon meeting of the Rotary or the annual drive of the Community Chest.

THE SAME Congress that wrote "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof," also appointed chaplains for both its houses.

The same Congress, in the first United States legislation regarding the military (the Act of March 3, 1791), provided expressly for the appointment and pay of a regimental chaplain.

THIS POINTS up the basic American concept: the state must neither support nor favor any one religious denomination. But at the same time the state must always sponsor, protect and favor religious life in general.

The United States is a "secular" state as far as any one denomination is concerned. But it is at the same time a "religious" commonwealth as concerns its general belief in the necessity of a truly religious basis of citizenship.

FROM THE FILES:—

TURNING BACK THE CLOCK —

June 25, 1937
The first match of a four-city golf tournament was held at Mayfield Sunday, with Fulton coming out second when final scores were tallied. Mayfield won with 92 points, Fulton 58, Paducah 45, Cairo 43.

The annual cup will be awarded the team scoring the most points in the four matches. Individual scores for Fulton players were:

Ward McClellan 80, J. T. Howard 84, Billy Carr 86, Frank Carr 86, Leslie Weeks 87, Harold Owen 87, Dave Craddock 88, Ernest Fall 89, Morris Miles 90, Leland Bugg 91, Bud Davis 96, Buck Bushart 96, Gid Williamson 97, C. W. Bridges 98.

Miss Idelle Batts was hostess to a gypsy tea Friday night at her country home east of town.

Those present were Misses Mary Ellen Brown of Mayfield, Ky., Rosemary Roberts of Bardwell, Ky., and Nola Mae Weaver; Messrs. Robert Batts, Jim D. Stephenson, Charles Sanofsky, and Julian Henderson.

Robbers pilfered the homes of Foad Homra on Norman Street and George Doyle on Third Street soon after midnight Tuesday night. Entrance was gained at the Homra home through the front door which was unlocked, stealing a pair of Foad Homra's pants, containing some cash, checks and key ring.

Those who spent Sunday at Reelfoot Lake were: Louise McAnally, Judith Hill, Blanche Harris of Union City, Bill Cheniae, Garold Merryman, Con Camp, of Union City, Fred Homra, J. P. Cavender, R. V. Putman, Billy Whitman, Hermon Freeman, Paris Campbell of Princeton, Glynn Dunn, and George Alley.

The Annie W. Armstrong Circle of the First Baptist Woman's Missionary Union met Monday night with Miss Myra Seacore at her home on Pearl Street, with Mrs. John Alred, co-hostess.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the president, Mrs. J. A. Hemphill, who presided over the meeting. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and the roll was called by the secretary, Mrs. Hugh Rushton. Fourteen regular members answered the roll call.

At the conclusion of the brief business session the program was in charge of Mrs. Clifton Hamlet, who presented a well prepared program on "Stewardship." She was assisted by Mrs. V. A. Richardson who gave a very interesting article on tithing.

The Fulton Chamber of Commerce has received, among other things, an inquiry from a large manufacturing firm seeking information about the community, which they are following up this week.

The publicity throughout the mid-South has been wonderful, too. Paducah Sun-Democrat editor Joe LaGore wrote a whole column about the local banana traffic and several additional articles; St. Joseph (Mo.) NEWS-PRESS ran a 2-column picture and story, and stories and pictures in varying sizes have been run in Clinton, Hickman, Union City, Dresden, Louisville, Memphis and Clarksdale, Mississippi, that I know of, besides aforementioned Birmingham. No telling how much more.

Fulton feels like it has had a real shot in the arm. Local service stations and restaurants report that many tourists mention having seen the program and remembering Fulton as they stop for services here.

Local television firms reported this week that sales have been unusually brisk during the past two weeks, and that service calls have been fast and furious, with instant attention demanded.

So a great big THANKS to Arthur Godfrey, Jo and Nancy for a very stimulating experience in good-will building.

Nancy, of course, is still at it, doing fine, being followed daily by everybody who can get to a TV screen for her program, and seemingly a very popular young lady around the Godfrey staff.

Clyde Corum dropped by the office last week-end to tell us that he was waiting to "have words" with Jo. Just as she rounded the corner to meet Godfrey, she knocked his TV off the air. A big clap of thunder hit his house and everything went blank.

Appropriate address: the newly-opened Barton Museum of Whiskey History in Bardstown is located on "Fifth" Street.

Need some good luck? Get acquainted with Mrs. Raymond White of Troy, Tennessee, who has a patch of 4-leaf clovers growing in her yard. She is reported to have picked a bouquet of over 300 in the past week, all bona-fide specimens.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF FLAVIOUS B. MARTIN

To The Citizenship of Fulton County and the First Judicial District of Kentucky

I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney of the First Judicial District of Kentucky.

I most earnestly solicit your vote and influence.

I see no necessity of giving history of my life for the reason that it is well known to a great majority of you. I am seeking re-election to the office of Commonwealth's Attorney basing by ambition upon the record I have made in this county and district. The record speaks for itself and anyone not familiar with it can obtain the truthful information by calling upon the custodian of the record in the county or making inquiry from the good men and women who have served on the grand jury and petit jury during my tenure of office.

I don't think anyone can or will say that I have not made a conscientious official.

The primary election will be held on May 28th, 1957. My official duties in the Circuit Courts will prevent me from personally contacting you. It is my sworn duty to attend these circuit courts. Will you please understand that if I fail to contact you personally it is for the reasons above indicated.

Down on the Farm

With JIM PRYOR

Agricultural Agent, Obion County, Kentucky

We have been discussing ways to cut costs and decrease man hours in the dairy barn and on the dairy farm. In man hours we have always said it takes 150 hours per cow on the dairy farm. We have now reduced this figure to approximately 75. The way we have arrived at this figure is through the elevated milking system, the self feeding trench silo and I should say concrete trench silo and the next item on the reducing list is the pole type barn. This will be the order of business for this week.

If you are planning a new barn for the coming year or if you have a barn in your plans for the future, don't let another sun set until you see a pole barn in action.

First they are more easily constructed. Just anyone with a strong hammering arm can build one. Next in relation to this easy construction is this matter of time consuming sawing. Most all the lumber is standard size barns in standard length. This is a feature you will be looking for in economy. The pole barn is more durable and the most convenient of any barn plan. The poles are standard size poles and you can get any length you want according to the size barn you plan to have. Now then let me quote some cost figures on pole barns. Mr. George Knight of Mayfield, Ky., Route 3 built his 40' by 60' pole type barn for the low cost of $1,000.00.

I have talked with George and he said, "I like these plans better than any I have seen, because of their economy and simplicity." Mr. Harmon Rickman of Wingo Route 2 has a cost figure of $1150.00 on his 52' by 60' pole type barn. Mr. Rickman says, "This type barn sure makes the job of storing hay a lot easier than the old type barns with the loft, and the feeding out is a lot more convenient." I could fill this newspaper with farmers who have pole barns and like them. Now here is one for economy: Mr. D. T. Waldrop of Mayfield, Ky. built his pole type barn AND an elevated milking system in a shed on the 32' by 60' barn for the low low cost of $648.79. The milking system is not inside the barn, but is in addition to the barn in the shed I mentioned. The cost includes cement, labor and lumber as well as other barn costs. So you see this is a low cost item for the dairy farm or any type livestock farm... and it makes a fine machinery shelter too.

Next week we will get on pastures and feeding the dairy cow.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE NEWS welcomes expressions from its readers. Such items must be signed but name will be omitted from publication if requested.

New York City

April 28, 1957

An open letter to the people of Fulton:

Dear Friends,
I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincerest thanks and appreciation to the wonderful people of Fulton and South Fulton for your letters, telegrams, phone calls, and flowers, especially the lovely orchids from the Chamber of Commerce of the twin cities. Also thanks to The News for the splendid publicity.

It means so much to know that the people at home are pulling for me.

Gratefully yours,

Nancy Adams

passed away Sunday morning, April 21, at Fulton Hospital following a long illness.

Services were held at the Hornbeak Funeral Chapel, and were conducted by Rev. M. B. Proctor. Interment was at Palestine Cemetery.

Palbearers were Harry House, Pat Matheny, William Ladd of Tiptonville, L. M. McBride, J. T. Powell, Lewis Thompson, and Ira Dickson.

Mr. Bard was born July 28, 1895, the son of the late Sidney and Lula Browder Bard. He was married in 1922 to Mignon Boaz Bard, who survives him. Other survivors include three brothers, Roy Bard, Erwin Bard, and John E. Bard, all of Fulton, and several nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by a son, Leon Bard, in 1938.

The deceased united with Palestine Methodist Church at an early age and remained a member until death. He was a veteran of World War I.

Walter Smith

Services for Walter Smith, who died Saturday, April 20, at the Fulton hospital after a long illness, were held Monday, April 22, at 2:30 at the Mt. Moriah Church, near Clinton, Ky. He was 64.

He was born April 30, 1892 in Smith County, Tennessee. Before his death he was a farmer, living on Fulton Rt. 4.

He is survived by his wife, Iva Newton Smith, three daughters, Mrs. Mozell Brown, Clinton, Mrs. John Mitchell, Clinton, Ky., and Miss Ruby Smith, Fulton. One son, V. B. Smith of Detroit.

One sister, Mrs. Lonnie Weatherford, Clinton, one brother, Herman Smith of Clinton, three grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews.

Rev. Hudson and Rushing presided over the funeral services. Burial was in the church cemetery, under the direction of the Whitel Funeral Home. Palbearers were, Herschell James Fulcher, Oscar Fortner, Robert Cooley and Gaylon Harderson.

Miss Ida Jobe

Services for Miss Ida Jobe, who died at her home in Water Valley at 3:40 p. m. Thursday, April 18, after a lengthy illness, were held Saturday afternoon, April 20, at 2:30 at the Pleasant Valley Methodist Church. The Rev. M. Proctor, pastor of the Water Valley Methodist Church, officiated. Burial, under direction of Jackson Brothers Funeral Home of Paducah, was in the church cemetery. She was 83.

Miss Jobe was born in Graves County, Ky., Jan. 18, 1874, daughter of William David and Mary Jane Pittman Jobe. She was a member of the Pleasant Valley Methodist Church.

She leaves two brothers, Claude and Audie Jobe of Water Valley; and two nephews, Milford and Charles Jobe of Water Valley.

John Almus Ridgeway

John Almus Ridgeway, formerly of near Paducah, died at the home of his son, Dalton Ridgeway near Paducah, at 5 p. m. Thursday, April 18, after a long illness. He was 79.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Sarah Ann Cashions Ridgeway; three sons, Dalton Ridgeway of near Paducah, Almar and Dude Ridgeway of Tulsa, Okla.; a daughter, Mrs. F. K. Kline of Tulsa, Okla.; and a sister, Lissy Brann of Paducah.

He was a member of the Knobb Creek Church of Christ. Services were held at the Good Springs Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Saturday, April 20, at 2 p. m. Bro. Alonzo Williams of Paducah officiated. Burial, under direction of Jackson Brothers Funeral Home of Paducah, was in the church cemetery.

John J. Hill

John J. Hill of Memphis died at the St. Joseph Hospital there Thursday evening, April 18, at 7:25, after being in ill health for several years.

Mr. Hill and his family formerly lived in Fulton, where he was employed by the I. C. Railroad. He served as trainmaster of the old Tennessee Division before it was abolished here.

Mr. Hill was born near Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 18, 1883, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John O. Hill. He was married in 1905 to Miss Alma Sadler, who preceded him in death in 1933. He was a member of Roberts Lodge 172, F&AM, Fulton, a 32nd Degree Mason, and a Shriner.

Services were held Saturday morning, April 20, at 10 at the Hornbeak Funeral Home chapel. The Rev. Oakley Woodside, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, officiated. Burial was in Greenlee Cemetery.

Mr. Hill leaves a son, Joseph Hill of Houston, Texas; three daughters, Mrs. Louise Louque of New Orleans, Mrs. Ruth Bondurant and Miss Carolyn Hill of Houston, Texas; and two grandchildren.

SNEAK THIEF

A thief, mingling with the customers last Saturday at the Ben Franklin store in Union City, took advantage of a moment when a cash register was unattended, rang up a "pay-out," took $103 in bills and departed out the back door undetected.

VISIT INDIANA

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Kearby and daughter, Mrs. D. J. Murchison and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Kearby's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Eblen of Lafayette, Indiana, over the week end.

ALUMNI OFFICERS

TELEPHONE FOLKS

You can really tell the fishing season is in full swing by hearing of all the fish tales that are being told by those who are making trips back and forth to our two close by lakes. Eunice Seath and friends had a very nice day Sunday before last up near her cottage on Kentucky Lake. Wilburn Allen, Nemo Williams, and Nubbin Bizzle really had a field day one day last week. Wayne Grissom, Charles Ray, Charles Brown, and Harry Barber have been having good reports each time they have gone. Tommie Nell Gates and Margie Corum couldn't brag as much about their catch last week as others but they certainly had nothing to be ashamed of. Ward and Monette Bushart had a good day Saturday and both have a sun blister to prove it. Paul Heltzley and Harold Wiley also had a good day Saturday. If you folks want to know where the fish are biting just ask any of us here at the telephone office.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the family of Mr. Estone Browder who died Thursday. Mr. Browder was a former employee of the Telephone Co. He has been very nice to send the girls at the office the Life magazine and always to remember them at Christmas time.

Miss Hazle Clark, fiancée of Mr. Dean Killebrew of Dresden has been honored with two bridal showers recently. Mrs. Alma Williams of Union City was hostess to one shower in her honor. Many of the girls in our office attended both showers. The girls presented her with a portable mixer and a Mirro Matic cooker.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Shelby have bought some beautiful furniture and have moved from their apt. on Arch to a new apt. on Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy McCollum and son, Lionel, enjoyed a week's vacationing in Miami, Florida.

Mr. Hoyt Wilson is on the Dean's List for the first semester of the school year 1956-57 recently released by Dean F. E. Wright of Union University, Jackson, Tennessee. In order to make the Dean's List a student must have a semester average of not less than "B" with not more than one "C".

Hoyt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carnell Wilson of 804 E. State Line Street, Fulton, Kentucky. He graduated from South Fulton High School in 1954 as a member of the following club and honor societies: Valedictorian; editor, annual; president, senior class. He attended Murray State College transferring to Union in 1956.

A Junior at Union, he is majoring in business administration and minoring in religion. He is a member of the Baptist Student Union, Ministerial Association.
